tain selfish persons persist in being worried because there is talking in the Library. But imagine the audacity of this. A certain professor was actually so discourteous the other morning as to raise his head and glance meekly across at the sandy-haired Freshman who was talking so loud that no one could study. But, oh! this is a bully-good Freshman. He knew his rights, and, smiling disdainfully, he did not so much as pause in the interesting discourse he was

THE FRATERNITY CLUB HOUSE.

In response to the call made by representatives from the various Greek letter fraternities for a mass meeting to consider the advisability of building a Pan-Hellenic Club-House at the Tennessee Centennial Exposition, a large and enthusiastic body of alumni and students gathered at the Maxwell House last Saturday night.

T. J. Tyne was chosen temporary Chairman and Dr. B. E. Fort

THE CO-ED-WARD GAME.

In spite of the precautions and vigilance of don't-let-a-man-come-in girls, teachers and instructors, I gained admission to the gymnasium and hid myself in a corner and awaited developments.

Soon the crowd began to gather, consisting of the girls' schools, and old and young ladies. On the faces of the sweet school girls were not seen the usual bewitching smiles. Something was lacking'
